[LOCAL COLOSSEUM CHURCH]

PASADENA, June 2.—From 60 to 99 years of age, the members of the Lake-avenue dist Church will be guests of Sunday morning at an unfolks' service. The younger herd of the church will act as lears and will bring all the people of the church to the Rev. D. J. Higgins, who celebrates his ninety-ninth birthday September 12, is to give the sermon and his subject will be "The Inner Light." Dr. Higgins has been preaching for seventy-five years.

In place of the youthful choir that sings the Sunday music, a group of elderly people, ranging from 72 to 92, will sing the hymns.

to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Stone, both over 70. They sang "The Old Time Religion." Dr. J. Tyler Parker will also speak.

Among those who will assist unique services are Mr. and William Seaton, over 89; Grady Webster, 84; J. Hopkins and the Rev. Wm. H. B. Rector, nearing the century mark.

The following Sunday the city will go to the opposite extreme as the youngest members of the church will be present.

CITY SPECULATORS

Thanks to the foresight of Stanley F. Black, city health commissioner, the citizens of Pasadena will benefit to the tune of more than $1000 on a purchase of potassium permanganate, a purple crystalline substance which the price would go up if the war started. Dr. Black has heavily discounted the permanganate

His purchases included more than 2000 pounds which he says cost him a cent a pound. Permanent gas now selling at $1.75 a pound, the city has substituted this material for fumigation and will use its present supply of permanganate.

NATIONAL VISION.

Hon. George A. Patton of the Marine Corps will give the address at the Throop College of Technology today morning when he will talk on "National Vision, National Policy." Patton has taken an active part in California politics and his address is expected to touch on present affairs of the country.

President James A. B. Scherer will give the principal address on "The Throop Glue Club." The Throop Glue Club is the Kluge's "Recreational Club." The Throop Glue Club is the Kluge's "Recreational Club." The Throop Glue Club is the Kluge's "Recreational Club."

Travel scholarship prizes will be awarded to the students of the junior and freshman classes having the highest standing. The junior will provide a trip to Europe, the freshman prize, a trip to the United States.

CITY BRIEFS

In order to gain more ground in the country rock-breaking campaign, the city has made a request of John F. Kennedy, president of the Federal Reserve Bank at San Francisco for permission to

ACCUSED BANKER ON FRIENDLY

[BY DIRECT WIRE]

SAN DIEGO, June 2.—With reluctance and much more hesitancy than the accused, William H. Crocker, the Coronado millionaire, testified against his old friend, Milton Barber, the former of the San Diego Savings Bank was given his preliminary hearing and bound over to the superior Court on a charge of grand larceny and felony embezzlement. The case brought against him was the San Diego Savings Bank. In the first, it was charged that he had appropriated $14,000 worth of Santa Fe Railroad stock belonging to Dupe, which the latter left at the bank as collateral. He took it and borrowed $10,000 from it, and sold the stock as his own, under the name of a broker, from the Citizens' National Bank.

to construct a seven-mile highway between the ocean-to-ocean highway at Beaumont and the Tule River road, a stretch of road entirely in Riverside county. The county refused to improve the route, and the representatives of the citizens of Gardena, Redlands, Colton, Beaumont and Banning, swinging picket wheels and driving teams, made the county seat a detour from the four places more than a mile of road. It was in shape for travel. With the aid of a score of team wagons and drivers, the work progressed swiftly.

The local delegation of laborers, early this evening arriving in Beaumont, were busy declaring that more than a mile of new highway had been com-

MUCH TROUBLE IN WAKE OF ARREST.

SUICIDE THREAT ONE RESULT OF LAW'S ACTION.

Officer Says Real Estate Man, Charged with Embezzlement, Talked of Ending Own Life. Complaints Tried to Squelch Proceedings—Heavy Bail Set.

While being taken to the County Jail yesterday after his arrest on a charge of embezzlement, Fred Dornberger, a local real estate dealer, threatened to commit suicide, according to the arresting officer, Inspector Austin of the District Attorney's office.

Shortly after the arrest Charles J. Kochs, the complaining witness, appeared before Deputy District Attorney Jock, who issued the complaint, requesting that the entire matter be dropped. This request was refused.

According to the allegations against Dornberger, who has been prominent in local German circles, he appropriated $750 belonging to Mr. Kochs, his clerk. The money was to be used in a real estate deal and apparently was placed in escrow.

When Mr. Kochs investigated he discovered, according to his own statements to Deputy District Attorney Jock, that the check placed in escrow was worthless and that his own money had been diverted to other Dornberger affairs.

Dornberger was placed in the County Jail awaiting such time as he shall provide bail in the sum of $1500. He will be arraigned in the justice court today.

Prisoner.
Case of Woman Held in Jail Without Bail, on Admirer's Accusation, Stumps District Attorney for Complaint.

Mrs. Hattie Daily, the busman's daughter who was arrested Thursday on complaint of E. Schroeder, that he had given her $4900 during the last six months, without receiving any return, was held in jail yesterday but no complaint was lodged against her. The District Attorney's office reported to the police it was difficult to determine on what charge Mrs. Daily could be prosecuted.

Schroeder alleges he gave Mrs. Daily the money in various sums, and purchased diamonds for her valued at more than $1500. Mrs. Daily acknowledged Schroeder provided for her handsomely. She said she thought he was wealthy, and he had told her he would wed her as soon as she could get a divorce from her husband, who is in San Quentin Penitentiary serving a seven-year sentence.

Schroeder admits having taken Mrs. Daily to the office of an attorney and employed the attorney to handle her case in the divorce court. Mrs. Daily was held without bail. Some disposition of her case will occur today.

TRAFFIC MEN DINE.
Santa Fe Officials in Charge at Noon Meeting of Association.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Los Angeles Traffic Association was held at Jahnke's Cafe at noon yesterday. The meeting was given over to the Santa Fe Railway Company members, John J. Byrne, assistant passenger traffic manager, acting as chairman.

Paul Burke, assistant attorney of the Santa Fe, delivered an interesting address on the wage controversy between the railroad and the trainmen.

Entertainment was furnished by the troubadours of the San Diego exposition. There were 150 members of the organization present.

HAS GOOD EFFECT.
Convictions for Arson Reduce the Number of Fires in City.

Nine convictions for arson in as many months has had the effect of materially reducing the number of fires of supposed incendiary origin in this city, according to Arthur R. Keetch, special prosecutor for the "Arson Committee" of the Board of Fire Underwriters of the Pacific.

Notwithstanding an increase of 8 per cent. in fire insurance rates remains effective here, George O. Roadway of San Francisco, member of the board of underwriters, yesterday denied a report that a request for a reduction of insurance rates had been refused, for the reason that such a request has never been made.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL MARK.

CHIEF EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

(At Home): The arrival of the "between-seasons" period sees a very large volume of business, with industries moving along at a rate far above the normal. Optimism, though tempered by high prices, is not one which less than it has been throughout the boom period, the plain fact being that the country is sold up and is in a good position to take a breathing spell. Labor is in more demand than ever at increasing wages. The foreign demand for steel is now unprecedented.

Warm weather has greatly improved

retail trade as well as crop conditions.

(For details see financial pages.)

NUMBER ONE.

Roosevelt's campaign for the Presidential nomination is being carried on with all the vigor and insistence of a pup searching for a bone that a big dog has buried, and with an amplitude of cheek that would excite the envy of a government mule. He declares that he is in favor of the greatest good of the greatest number, and that the greatest number with him is NUMBER

ONE.

THE SUNRISE COURT.

The city is to be congratulated that hereafter supervision of the Sunrise Court is not to be limited to a mere observer of the law. He is to be assisted by a physician who is an observer of human bodies

and a gentleman who is classed as "a competent observer of human nature." But why limit the supervisory tribunal to three?

Why not add a clergyman as an observer

of human souls and a newspaper reporter

as an observer of human actions?

THE HIDE OF BRANDEIS.

Hon. Frank Brandeis of Nevada was the only Democratic Senator who had the manliness to be uninfluenced by the message of being banished from the pie counter

and to refuse to crouch at the feet of Wilson and Compere and vote to place Brandeis the butter-in on the Supreme bench.

The Times salutes Frank.

It Brandeis did not have a pachydermation hide he would shrink from the ordeal of extrication that awaits him from the other justices of the Supreme Court.

WHAT IS PEACE?

The warring powers in Europe are said to be in favor of peace, but they differ

as to the kind of peace. England wants the peace of death for all Germans, and von Hindenburg demands a peace that "respects all unprovoked demands." At least everybody else understands it and it is doubtful if Von H. himself entirely comprehends it.

Senator Chilton says that he is glad to see

Germany talk peace, for "only the strong can talk peace." Henry Ford believes that perfect peace can only be secured by his combination as President, and Bryan wants the kind of peace that will bring a piece to him.

MORE DEMOCRATIC DIRECT TAX-

ATION.

To provide more revenue for the 1916-17

fiscal year, a bill for $100,000,000 needed.

Democratic leaders propose to levy new taxes directly on the people. The plan includes an inheritance tax, increase of the surtax rates in the income tax law, and a tax on manufactured munitions of war.

A federal inheritance tax will make dou-

"NONPARTISAN" SCHOOL BOARD.

The so-called "Nonpartisan School Board" has turned out just exactly as The Times said it would when this great religious and educational journal vigorously opposed that highly political non-partisan ticket. We have the most partisan of school boards, with the exception of Andrew Jackson could do it, as the bitest, most disruptive and most brutal quarrel ever known in our school department—a menace and a reproach to our city, with a recall election threatened and parents, teachers and children out doing politics. The "Nonpartisan School Board" was secretly framed up in a corner by the most persistent and tireless bunch of politicians

in town, including that celebrated non-partisan, Doc Hayden. "Nonpartisan" is hanged! Men are natural partisans; and no device patented by Hiram Johnson can make them anything else.

THE OUTRAGEOUS LAND-LEASING

LAW.

The Executive Committee of the Miners' and Homesteaders' Protective League

has addressed to the President and Congress a memorial against the passage of the proposed oil and land-leasing measures pending. The memorial is a logic argument, religiously phrased, against a measure which, if enacted and enforced,

would strip the States of rights which they have possessed ever since the formation of this government, and would take away from American citizens the opportunity to obtain homes from the public domain. It would discourage capitalists from expend-ing in the sinking of oil wells.

Landlords of agricultural lands are a relic of feudalism as much out of place in the American republic as any other kind of lords. Ownership of the soil on which he stands is a possession of the American farmer which contributes to the uplifting

and maintenance of his manliness and independence and makes of him a better citizen and a better husband and father. He can stand upon his land and say, "This is mine, acquired from the wise bounty of a government which vested me with the title to it on no other condition than that I should occupy and cultivate it, and which exacts from me no toll of money or service or rental. The land is mine. From the federal fires in the earth's center up to the shining stars it is mine. The minerals and oils and gases underneath are mine. The grasses and flowers and trees which grow

upon it are mine. The waters that flow through it and the breezes that blow over

it are mine, and there is no prince or duke

or earl or other lord of the land who can exact tribute of money or service from me

for my use of these acres."

Will the people of the United States permit a President and Congress infected with Socialistic tendencies and a craze for experimental legislation to make tenants instead of owners of future settlers upon the public lands? "Issachar is a strong ass,"

and a patient one, but he can be overloaded

so that to save his back from breaking his back will fly up and his rider be tumbled into the mud. Mr. Wilson, if you congress bribed at his pie counter to do his bidding, overload Issachar by passing their outrageous oil and land-leasing atrocity issachar will surely toss them from their place of power and profit into the ditch

of utter and merited defeat.

The Los Angeles memorialists truthfully say among other things:

"The bills now pending are a most vicious and insidious attack upon the sovereign and supreme municipal power of the States of the Union and a despicable effort to extinguish the autonomy of the respective commonwealths and reduce them to territorial impotency.

The suggestion of a national

The President's Dream.

Old and New Sanctification.

[Pittsburgh Gazette-Times:] Getting sanctified under Billy Sunday in Boston will at least have some idea of what sanctification means when one had to follow Jonathan Edwards's plan. However, it is certain that

Jonathan Edwards's sanctification

meant and its influence is still visible.

Pity the President.

[Pittsburgh Dispatch:] Now they are jumping on Mr. Wilson for his historical references in his Charlotte speech, thereby demonstrating that a President is as poor a historian as some people as a historian is a President to others.

A Hint to the Slackers.

[Chicago News:] To stand on the curb and cheer our enlarged army

will be less healthful for the citizen

than to keep himself physically fit

in order that he may personally defend his country in case of attack.

Same Old Dignity.

[Boston Transcript:] It isn't quite clear what Bryan's title will be at the St. Louis convention, but his capacity will be that of the same troublemaker.

Two Kinds of Knocking.

[Springfield Union:] Of course

the President's theory that it is sometimes necessary to knock down

a man in order to gain a moral influence over him has no bearing on a wish, once fervently expressed,

that something might intervene to knock a certain person into a coffin

hat. It is annihilation rather than moral influence that was hoped for

in that case.

Easy to be an Ass.

standing."—William F. Bryan. He

STEAMSHIP SUIT
SUDDENLY CLOSES.ENDS WHERE IT BEGAN, AFTER THREE WEEKS' TRIAL.

Action Against the Wilmington Transportation Company, by Nival Catalina Island Carrier, for Damages and Injunction, is Dismissed on Motion of Plaintiff.

The trial of the suit of J. N. Braun, of the Calypso against the Wilmington Transportation Company and others, to restrain them and their agents from interfering with Braun's business of carrying passengers to and from Catalina, came to an end in Judge Work's court yesterday, after the plaintiff's testimony was in.

The court indicated that Mr. Braun had not established any claim to damages or any actual loss of patronage, and that the only thing left was the injunction sought. The defendant sprang a city ordinance passed early this year, prohibiting any soliciting in the business district. As to the action against the Wilmington Transportation Company and the Metro Company from carrying passengers away from the Calypso, it was finally dismissed on the ground that it would amount to nothing. Finally, a proposition was made and accepted by Mr. Braun, to that effect was made and granted by the court on the understanding that each side would pay its own costs.

The trial had lasted three weeks and was not expected to close for a week or more. A great many witnesses had been examined and more were waiting to be called. The defendant ordered a daily transcript of the testimony. The costs, therefore, were considerable. There were numerous rows between the agents of the companies, who were charged with misrepresenting their rival's boats. Several fist fights occurred. Once the police were called in, and the grounds were cleared. The battle ground was the intersection of Sixth and Spring, and the intersection of Sixth and Broadway, and the intersection of Sixth and Hill street.

FOUND GUILTY.

BURGLARY CHARGE.

H. H. Stevens was yesterday convicted by a jury in Judge Will's court of burglary, committed in the Elston apartment house, 1100 North Main, and stealing clothing, silverware and jewelry valued at approximately $1000, belonging to Mrs. Charles Sanders and her sister, Mrs. Richard Elington. With Stevens was Alvin B. Stanford, who is alleged to have confessed. John Macchietti is also implicated. Both of the latter will be tried in Judge Will's court. District Attorney Doran held that the evidence was so plain that argument to the jury was unnecessary.

ABOUT THE COURT.

TRIAL SET.

Charles C. Maxwell, accused of a statutory offense against one of the boys in his Sunday-school class, was arraigned yesterday before Judge Craig. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and the date of his trial was set for August 9. It was requested to have half reduced from $1000 to $500 was denied.

CHANGE OF NAME.

Originally incorporated as the Japanese Association of Los Angeles, the Japanese Association of Southern California, it was discovered that through the efforts of Judge Craig, the two organizations legally existed. Yesterday the Japanese Association of Southern California petitioned the court to change the name of the corporation to the Japanese Association of Southern California, and some confusion in names results. The petitioner states it is organized for benevolent and literary purposes.

GETS DATES MIXED.

Witness in Government's Action Against Time until Defense Falls a Long-forgetting Affidavit on Film.

The dangers of being too sure in one's evidence, especially when special dates are involved, was shown yesterday in United States District Judge Bledsoe's court, in the hearing of the "Grand Jury" of the government against the Southern Pacific.

The witness was Milton McWhorter, an old-time oil prospector, who began operations in the Coalinga and McKittrick fields many years ago. Before oil was discovered there, he rode over the country on a bicycle, and was very active in the development of the Kern county field.

McWhorter testified that as early as 1899 he had been hired by Jerome Madden, land agent of the Southern Pacific, to locate lands about Coalinga, and that later on he had been employed by the Southern Pacific to locate lands in the vicinity of Yuma; that about the same time he located sections 26, 27, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, and 24, in the vicinity of what is known as Oil City, as being likely oil territory. He declared that in 1890 he was in the employ of the Coalinga and Consumers' Oil Company, when as a matter of fact, it was shown, the company was not incorporated until 1898.

When McWhorter was cross-examined by Charles Lewis, counsel for the Southern Pacific, he was brought face to face with an affidavit he had sworn November 18, 1898, wherein he stated that he had not entered the oil field until 1898. McWhorter said he remembered the case, and the notary who took the acknowledgment, but did not recall the affidavit. He said he admitted he himself had made the interlineations in ink that appeared in the document.

CHARITY BILL
INADEQUATE.Merchants and Manufacturers Oppose New Ordinance.Protects Neither Donors Nor Honest Institutions.May Create Own Committee to Handle Donations.

Action taken by the board of directors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association yesterday, regarding the proposed new ordinance creating the Municipal Charities Commission, was to directly disapprove of its provisions on the grounds that it does not adequately protect either the donors or the charities that depend upon this ordinance. In a statement which will be sent to the City Council, the position of the association is outlined and it is set forth that if a commission is appointed under the proposed ordinance, it will be entitled to receive its aid, and that no indorsement of the institution can be obtained from the association unless the institution applying therefor meets with all the requirements of a well-conducted, honest and business-like administration.

GIVES NO PROTECTION.

The statement to be sent to the City Council says:

"The ordinance creating the Charity Commission now before your honorable body for consideration, as submitted by the City Attorney, does not, in our opinion, protect the donors or the charities that depend upon them for their existence and financial support."

"It must be conceded that charitable and philanthropic institutions maintained by public subscriptions are of a quasi-public character, and consequently the moneys so contributed are public funds, and the public has a right to demand that these funds be properly managed and expended in the public interest, and that the institutions be subject to public scrutiny."

"The management of the majority of these institutions is in the hands of self-appointed or self-selected boards of directors, and they have no right to assume that they can expend the money contributed by the public without being held accountable. We do not desire to cast any reflection on the honesty or integrity of such directors, yet experience has taught that mismanagement and dishonesty will at times prevail."

"The ordinance as reported to your honorable body by the Public Welfare Committee does not furnish that protection that we believe must be the principal aim of desired legislation."

LIBERAL CONTRIBUTORS.

"The members represented by the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association are the most liberal and generous contributors to charity, and they have voiced their sentiments in no uncertain terms that no further contribution will be made until they are absolutely protected by an adequate ordinance and until they are fully assured that the moneys so contributed are properly managed and expended in the public interest, and that the institutions be subject to public scrutiny."

"By the splendid results obtained through the supervision of the Municipal Charities Commission, a great many abuses have been rectified and some institutions that were conducted for private gain and were mismanaged have been forced to abandon their work without effect on the general scope of philanthropic institutions."

OWN CHARITY WORK.

"This communication is addressed to you in the interests of those institutions that are worthy of support from the fact that if an inadequate ordinance is passed by your honorable body, your ordinance such as is now before you will be ignored and that they will place in the hands of this association the amount appropriated yearly by them for charitable purposes, to be distributed by a special committee of this association that shall have complete supervision of all institutions, and no indorsement of this association can be obtained unless their management and expenditures meet with all the requirements of a well-conducted, honest and business-like administration."

PROCEEDINGS.

ARSON HEARINGS SET.

Two Watus Suspects Who are Said to Have Confessed They Took Part in Incendiary Fire are Arraigned—One Goes Free Under Bond.

Charged with complicity in the setting of an alleged incendiary fire at Watts, Luther Watkins, confidential man for W. H. Turner at the time the latter was manager of the Watts Lumber Company, and James Hayes, former yard foreman for the same corporation, were arraigned before Justice Cassidy at Huntington Park yesterday. Their preliminary hearing was set for the 14th inst.

With ex-Mayor Turner of Watts the two men are accused of having had a hand in the blaze which destroyed the mill and a portion of the yard of the lumber company. They are charged with attempting to hush up investigation of the lumber-burner or was ex-Mayor John S. Lane of Watts is charged with attempting to hush up investigation of the lumber-burner.

Bail for Watkins and Hayes was fixed by Justice Cassidy at the same amount for the other two members of the accused quartette, $5000 each. Watkins furnished this in the courtroom, but Hayes could not pay and was taken back to the County Jail.

Unite for Action.

and B. N. Coffman, Hardware and Metalmen's Association.

UNION STATION PLANS.

President Blanchard said he was sure the organization would be productive of much good, especially to the property holders in the north end of the city. He dwelt upon the possibility of a union station in the Plaza district and exhibited a map which showed the site to be an ideal one.

The matter is practically up to the Railroad Commission now," he said. "That means it is at least a year ahead of what it would be under ordinary circumstances. Secretary Ryerson is in a position to know that in a short time engineers from the Railroad Commission will be sent to study the problem and look over this project. There undoubtedly will be a conference called by the commission to invite counselmen John Topham, chairman of the Viaduct Committee of the City Council, and Samuel Storror, one of the engineers, to meet the members of the new organization and discuss the matter of grade crossings and union depot."

It was decided to wait until the meeting next Friday afternoon before adopting the proposed resolution. At that time the association will be asked to endorse the plan, and the members of the new organization will be asked to endorse the plan, and the members of the new organization will be asked to endorse the plan.

IMPROVE NORTH END.

Property holders in the north end will be urged to improve the appearance of their buildings, clean up the fronts and in other ways make that end of the city more desirable. A plan for the improvement of the river bed at the point where it enters the city was informally discussed. The suggestion was made that the bottom be covered with cement and two or three feet high by constructed, sufficient to make it possible to have the entire bed covered with water all the time, even if it is only a few inches deep.

JOSEPH MEASER PUT EMPHASIS ON THE FACT THAT THE ASSOCIATION WILL

work for the entire city. He said that a union station located at the plaza would be a time-saver for everybody who uses the railroads as compared with getting to and from the three present depots. It also would result in greater safety on account of the elimination of grade crossings. He believed the association would prove a strong organization.

FOR SECOND-STREET TUNNEL.

The second-street tunnel resolution was presented by F. T. Baker and reads as follows:

Resolved, that we unanimously favor the immediate construction of the second-street tunnel as the first step in a complete tunnel system under Bunker Hill, connecting the business center with the northwest residential portion of our city, thus accommodating business and giving partial relief to an intolerable traffic congestion in the north, which is a menace to life and property. We are appalled when we read the police reports for April that there were nearly 600 automobile accidents, of which 100 were fatal, and are incensed by existing dangerous traffic congestion. We favor safety first and are willing to pay its cost.

Therefore we call upon our citizens to vote for the tunnel bonds Tuesday, June 6, proposed by the City Council to help in building this tunnel, assured that these bonds will not be a burden upon the people, as the increased revenue to the city by reason of taxes on enhanced values of property and new buildings will more than equal the bonds."

LOSE THEIR APPEALS.

District Court Affirms Judgments in Robbery and Surety Cases.

The District Court of Appeal has affirmed the judgment of Superior Judge J. L. Lewis of San Diego, who refused a new trial to Alonso Pasquella, convicted of robbing Tom Jing, a Chinese, in that city.

The Pacific Surety Company lost its appeal to the District Court from a judgment rendered against it by the late Superior Judge E. F. Denmore of Riverside county, as surety on the bond of a building contractor who was engaged in the construction of the First Congregational Church of Christ in Corona.

addition to a liberal response from the big corporations and associations, the general run of business men and residents will make liberal donations to the cause. The City Council is limited in the amount it may contribute and the Board of Supervisors may not be able to contribute anything.

HIGHEST ON COAST.

There is the civic spirit that will appear when it becomes known that San Francisco is planning to have a preparedness parade to exceed anything of the kind on the Pacific Coast. Los Angeles wants that distinction herself.

Vice-President Hammond, who is to have charge of assembling the various units of the parade, is already immersed in his task but promises to have the parade a single company by June 10, to be getting in touch with civic, fraternal and social organizations who desire to express patriotism by marching.

Boys' Vacation Suits at $5.00

—A new suit for that summer vacation—and now is the best time to buy it! Today you may select from some recent arrivals—Norfolk suits made well, and in the smartest styles and most popular materials and colors, some have two pairs of trousers, too. Of course, we bought them "special," or we could never sell them at $5.00. 6 to 18-year sizes.

Boys' Norfolk Khaki Suits at $2.50

—A genuinely satisfactory suit for vacation wear—and at the same time it saves the better suits—just $2.50.

—Of durable khaki, in dark brown—belted Norfolk coat, full-cut trousers, sizes 6 to 16 years—$2.50.

Wash Suits, $1.95

—About 500 new suits just arrived—Tommy Tucker and Junior Norfolk styles in every wanted fabric that'll wear and tub; sizes 2½ to 8 years—$1.95.

Sport Blouses, 50c

—We've about 1000 of these—we know what the boys like for summer! Plain colors and stripes in seersucker and madras; sizes 6 to 15 years—50c.

(Hamburger's—Second Floor—Today)

"Balboa" Shirts, $1

Preparedness.

addition to a liberal response from the big corporations and associations, the general run of business men and residents will make liberal donations to the cause. The City Council is limited in the amount it may contribute and the Board of Supervisors may not be able to contribute anything.

HIGHEST ON COAST.

There is the civic spirit that will appear when it becomes known that San Francisco is planning to have a preparedness parade to exceed anything of the kind on the Pacific Coast. Los Angeles wants that distinction herself.

Vice-President Hammond, who is to have charge of assembling the various units of the parade, is already immersed in his task but promises to have the parade a single company by June 10, to be getting in touch with civic, fraternal and social organizations who desire to express patriotism by marching.

Believe nothing you read in "Modjeska this summer." Forster, ornate—Advertisement.
